Lunar New Year | Valentine's Day | Parent Night

AdvancedEd visit

Our accreditation team will arrive this Tuesday, February 6th, for observations. You may see a few new faces. If you are able to meet and be interviewed at either 1:00 PM or 4:00 PM at the library it will count toward your volunteer hours.

Lunar New Year

Next Friday, February 9th, we will have our parade and party. It will begin at 9:00 AM, please be sure your child arrives in time to participate. Wearing red brings good luck; if your child has something red to wear for our parade please send them in it that morning. Parents do not usually attend this celebration.

Valentine's day

We will celebrate Valentine's day on Wednesday, February 14th at 9:00 AM. Please send 24 valentines and write only who they are from. This makes handing them out easy for each child.

Challenging work and introductions

No doubt many of you have heard the term "challenging work." It is different for each child but in every case helps to expand and build upon existing knowledge. For some it might be working with friends and sharing, for others it may mean learning to button, and some may be reading books and performing math equations. We cannot wait to host you for our annual Parent Night and show off these skills. It will be on February 22nd at both 5:00 PM and 6:00 PM. Please sign-up for a time slot as soon as you can: <http://www.signupgenius.com/go/20foe4da8a928a4f58-parent2> Looking forward to seeing you all there. Parent Night is for current preschoolers and their parents. We do not have space to accommodate siblings and apologize for the inconvenience.

This month, in our classroom...

We will study African animals, biomes, and culture. We will also study past presidents and introduce money in our math area.

Next month: Pajama Day March 2nd, conferences on the 8th and 9th, spring break, the Trike-a-thon on the 23rd, and an egg hunt on the 30th.
