Where “Little Owls” do big things.

Conferences, Apples, and Halloween

We have many things planned this month and there are many volunteer opportunities.

This month, we will study: the five senses, North America, apples, bats, and spiders. We will taste many different apples, look at bats, listen to a Native American story, smell pumpkins, and touch the skeleton of a bat. Children will be encouraged to use descriptive vocabulary with each activity.

We look forward to meeting each of you during conferences. Conferences are for parents and teachers only. Break camp is available if you need it and conferences should only last 20-30 minutes.

We have so many exciting events this month! Apple party, animal visitors from Camp McDowell, and our Halloween parade. Cluster photos and make up pictures will be next week on October 12th. Please arrive by 8:30 so everyone can be included.
